Shared parenting is what a child should expect. Telling kids to expect only seeing their dad on weekends is horrible. Parenting is done by both mom and dad. It's terrible to teach children that fathers are not equal in raising a child. I wouldn't read this to any child struggling after they have been through the neglect of a seperation/divorce.

As a divorced dad with only every other weekends to see my kids, it pains me to learn that this kind of book even exists. I believe this book sends a wrong and harmful message to children and the public in general that when parents divorced, it would be the "right and customary" thing for children to live with mom and dad is only this "thing" that you get to meet every Wednesday evening and ...

Directed by Douglas Sirk. With Van Heflin, Patricia Neal, Gigi Perreau, Virginia Field. Single parents Jean Bowen and Brad Stubbs meet at the train station when they send their kids (his two girls, her two boys) off to camp. Love inevitably blooms. But there are complications: Brad's other flame, TV star Phyllis, thinks he plans to marry her, while Jean has caught the eye of beefcake camp ...

Week-End with Father (1951) - IMDb
I was in my room. A picture of my mother was in my hands, and a scene was forming in my head. A bright and blinding scene that made my eyes tear and burn. My mother and father were fighting, and soon we were on the bus - me, my mother, and her pills. The cap went off as soon as we sat down and she downed one, two.
